

OK!

AS EMMA: EYES AND GLOWING CHEEKS

OUR GIRL HAS THE ANSWERS TO ALL YOUR BEAUTY DILEMMAS...

Posted: Tuesday 26 Aug 2008

Above: Sweet Almond Eye Balm, £39

Dear Emma...

The skin around my eyes often looks a bit weathered and worn. I feel as though it really ages me. Is there anything I can use?

One of my favourite spas in the whole world has an incredible range of products.

SPA SPC at Stoke Park Club really knows how to do treatments well and has put all its expertise into developing its own range. One of my favourite products is the Sweet Almond Eye Balm, £39.

It's full of fantastic ingredients, including jojoba and almond oil, as well as vitamin E and rosehip oil, which both act as nourishing food for that delicate under-eye skin.

I love the cream because it pumps out and looks thick, but then easily dissolves into the skin so you can actually see and feel it being absorbed. For more information, visit <http://www.spc.co.uk/>.

SPA SPC