

SPC Plant Collagen Night Cream

A light, luxurious night cream that will help hydrate your skin whilst you sleep, leaving the skin looking radiant and feeling smooth. It's quickly absorbed in to the skin and will not clog your pores.

The body produces collagen all the time although by the time you reach your mid 20's, the body starts to produce less and around the age of 50, the body is producing only 75% of what it used to therefore the skin becomes less firm and supple. By using plant collagen every day, you are helping to put collagen back in to the skin to help to repair the skin and slow down the ageing process.

Full of key nutritious plant oils and herb extracts, including highly absorbable jojoba oil and sea buckthorn oil, a super food for the skin with lots of essential fatty acids. Also containing soothing and healing aloe and chamomile, enzyme-rich papaya, amino acids from silk, and hyaluronic acid, which helps to plump and hydrate the skin.

These key ingredients work together to stimulate the skin, bind moisture to give skin elasticity and suppleness and help to smooth fine lines. The combination of vitamins help to brighten the skin.
